Conclusion

No major finds to report on the EMF meters

There were two locations where there was an interesting temperature change.

The first in the back boiler room where the temperature dropped quite a lot from the lowest reading of the entire evening in there of 26.3 to 22.3 ( a fall of 4 degree minimum) and when there was shuffling and noises being heard.

The second was a rise in temp in the staffroom from a max of 15.3 to 22. A massive rise of 6.7!
