Medium's Report – Karen Ford

Before even getting to this location, I had been getting some very strange feelings and images all day. This was the information I had picked up before arriving at the location – something I have not really done to such an extent before! I had also never even seen the location previously.

Male aged 30 to 40, married to a lady who couldn't have children.

He knocked her around a lot and eventually murdered her. I believe he was hung for his crimes.

He used to go up to London to work at times, and would spend weeks away at a time.

He was very violent.

Very well respected and smartly dressed when out.

When he murdered his wife he went to London, where he was eventually found.

They lived a poor life, and there was not much furniture etc.

When I was at the location, I was not sure if I was then picking up on various people and times as it did get a little more confusing.

I felt very much that this location had housed a number of families in various rooms and on various floors. I felt the violence of a male of about 37 years of age, but he would have been extremely scruffy and quite smelly. I also sensed that he had a drink problem as well. I could feel him attack his wife, often dragging her by her hair down the stairs, raping her, and attacking her in various ways.

I felt that they would have lived in the very top room, but also in the next floor down, as I felt that it was in this room at the front of the shop that he strangled her after a very vicious attack. I felt that this was on a small bed, under the window. The sadness and upset felt by his wife was quite overbearing, and at times I felt it quite hard to stay in the same area for too long.

I did also get the names Thomas, Mary and Sniddlesham. (I have since found out that there is a place called Siddlesham not far from this location which used to be linked by rail directly to Chichester) so perhaps this was a link to the place rather than a name? I also got the year 1923.

I was also aware of a taller, thinner male, than the one described above. I felt that he was also not a great family man, and was also quite abusive to his family. I felt that he did have a daughter and a son, but didn't look after them much. His interests seemed more to do with his work. This is the connection I felt to the travels up to London. I felt a strong feeling to do with either slave trade, or trading with people, and he was a link between the higher society in London and the South coast.

I am not sure which of these men was hung, or whether this sensation was just from the strangulation of the lady.

In the cellar, when there was more than just me down there, there was not a lot happening. When I went down on my own the people just seemed to come out of the walls. There were children and women who were very poor and just wanting help. I felt that they would have lead a very difficult life, living quite rough. The need for help got more and more overwhelming and when I tried to leave it was almost like they were tugging at my jeans not to leave them. I made me feel extremely sad.

The strong feelings I recieved from this location were very strong. The images stayed with me for weeks afterwards and the need to return was very strong. I have since returned on a visit separate to the SPiRiT group with another medium to try and resolve some of the matters I picked up on here, much of which was confirmed. We will be returning once again in the near future to try and do some cleansing of the area along with Spirit guides, and hopefully bring some peace to the spirits there.

Conclusion

This certainly proved to be an active location, and well worth a return visit.

There are many emotions and sensations to be felt here.

Much was caught on camera in the form of orbs in most locations, although the activity does appear to move around the location and not just kept to one or two particular areas. There was also quite a lot of sound, so next time I would also advise running sound recordings in each area throughout the night
